As the Gater Sees It

By ED PIERCE

It looks very much as if scholarships were invading the State campus. The student body is now blessed with four, including the two latest additions.

Alpha Omega, campus sorority, has instituted a scholarship for girls. Jean Van Arsdale, sorority president, has announced that standards and requirements will be made public at a later date.

A scholarship is also being established under the supervision of the Executive board. Funds for this scholarship will be built up by the Morning Glory Sandwich company. According to the arrangements, one cent from each of this company's sandwiches sold in the Co-op will be set aside for the fund. The money will provide for tuition, fees and books, as determined by the Executive board and administered by the Deans' committee.

The two longer established scholarships include the Mary L. Kleinecke scholarship, provided by Alpha Phi Gamma, journalism fraternity, and the Sigma Alpha Eta scholarship. The Mary L. Kleinecke scholarship is designed to replace the Alpha Phi Gamma award to some outstanding high school journalist, which last award ceased to exist a year ago through lack of funds.

The Sigma Alpha Eta scholarship is awarded to an upper division male student who has taken an interest in campus activities and has maintained at least a 1.5 grade point average.

We have around us many indications that State is becoming more and more a real college . . . especially evidenced by the recent ground-breaking ceremony for our new campus. The addition of new scholarships is another of those indications.

When we show that we are willing and able to give material aid to deserving students, who might not be able to continue their college work, we may feel that we are getting some place.

C.S.T.A. Dines November 10

State college chapter of the California State Teachers association will be host to eight other colleges at a dinner and entertainment scheduled for Friday night, November 10, at 6 o'clock in Frederic Burke auditorium.

The colleges invited include University of California, Mills college, College for Women, College of Pacific, San Jose State college, California School of Arts and Crafts, California Art school, and the San Francisco College for Women.

John Brady, C.T.A. president and district deputy of San Francisco schools, and Alexander C. Roberts, State college president, will speak at the meeting. Following dinner there will be games and dancing.

C.S.T.A. was organized two years ago on the State campus under the leadership of Dr. Sherman L. Browne. Since that time it has spread to the other colleges which have received invitations to attend this meeting. Helen Newell is president of the organization.

NOTICE!

The newly formed Art Federation now has the right to O.K. all posters. This has formerly been the power of the student body president.

SALES CLOSED FOR CHICKENS BALL DUCATS

Committee Attempts To Secure Larger Auditorium for Act

For the first time in the history of the school the chairman of a program is fighting to keep away customers . . .

Closing sales today because the capacity of Frederic Burk would be overtaxed if any more ducats were sold, the Chicken's Ball Arrangements committee under the direction of Erwin Bischoff of Alpha Phi Gamma are still attempting to secure a larger auditorium for the contest.

ACTS APPROVED

Ten acts have now been approved for the program, all mediocre acts having been eliminated. The preview committee has spent the last two weeks approving and rejecting acts. The following organizations will be awarded a place on the program:

Phi Lambda Chi, Alpha Omega, Kappa Delta Tau, Bib 'n Tucker, Sigma Pi Sigma, French club, Spanish club, Newman club, AMS, and AWS.

"We are proud to have a part in the presentation of this program," said Erwin Bischoff, Chicken's ball director for Alpha Phi Gamma, "To judge from the previews, the committee and I have seen, the quality will by far surpass that of the last Chicken's ball. The Music federation is offering us fine cooperation and are now preparing old-time tunes for the program. The overture itself will be worth more than the price of admission!"

ROBERTS CONGRATULATES

Expressing regret that Frederic Burk auditorium could hold no more people, Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of the college congratulated the directors of the event for the plans they have made.

"I am sure that over twice as many tickets for a program such as this could be sold if there were more room," he said.

Tickets will once again be placed on sale, providing that a larger theater can be secured in time.

Los Lazarillos Endorsed For Chickens Ball

With a Spanish bullfight as the theme, Los Lasarillos was officially endorsed by Erwin Bischoff Thursday for participation in the Chicken's ball.

The preview disclosed an act that is predicted to rank high among the performances.

Delta Sigma Nu wish to thank all those who helped make their candy sale a success. A profit of $5.60 was made, due to the cooperation of the students.

Franciscan Photo Proofs Ready For Students

Printing Contracts Led By Board Of Publications

Proofs of the portraits taken by the Franciscan photographer will be available in the office early this week, according to Ernie Miguel, editor.

The proofs will remain the property of the 1940 Franciscan, but the members of the honorary fraternities who were photographed will be given the choice of which pose the wish to have printed, and will have the privilege of ordering prints for themselves.

With the conclusion of the preliminary photography last week, work on the annual was started in full swing. Approval of contracts for printing of the book last week, and letting of the contract for engraving this week will allow the editors to send a large amount of copy to be prepared by the engravers and printers. The opening section is expected to be finished within the next few weeks.

The next order of business for the editors will be the scheduling and photography of all groups and senior pictures. The senior class staff, under the direction of Margaret Sullivan, Dena Witte, and Merridy Rasmussen is now preparing notices to be sent to seniors as a preliminary to compiling the records and taking the portraits.

Westminster Discusses Cal Migrants

"What are the needs of migratory laborers in California?" is the question to be discussed by Mrs. F. E. Shotwell at the Westminster club's meeting at noon on Wednesday, November 8, in the Activities room.

With this meeting, the club will launch a drive for used clothing for distribution to needy migrants. Members of the student body and faculty are urged to bring articles of clothing or blankets to the alcove outside Mrs. Monroe's office, room 203A.

Peace Rally Scheduled For Nov. 10

Dr. Tully Knowles, president of College of Pacific will present the principal address, and his subject will be "Peace." Dr. Knowles' address will be supplemented with talks by Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of State college, Dr. Alfred G. Fisk, associate professor of philosophy, Bob Sweeney, student body president, Ed Smith and Joe Edelstein.

All 2 o'clock classes will be dismissed Friday for the peace rally, which will be staged in the First Baptist church on the corner of Octavia and Waller streets.

The committee established to make arrangements for the peace rally includes Joe Edelstein, chairman; Dorothy Foppiano, decorations; and Dena Witte, Thelman and Slip Madigan.

Pre-Nursing Students Meet Thursday Noon

A get-together for all pre-nursing students will be held at 12a.m. Thursday in the Activities room, according to Zora Edwards, publicity chairman for the Pre-Nursing club.

Helia Kaistinen was appointed temporary chairman at the meeting last Thursday. A committee composed of Smith, Lane, Lahaderne, George, Miller, and Loura, will draw up a new constitution. Dr. Edna L. Barney gave a talk on nursing as a profession.

WHY, PROFESSOR— FIE! FIE! (AND FIE!)

While the entire student body rejoiced in the possession of a half holiday last Wednesday, one of the professors was heard to remark: "This holiday business is fine, but I think they deliberately look up the schedule of classes, find out when mine occur, and then carefully time it so that none of my classes will be excused."

Casa Loma Band Stars Singers Hunt, Sargent And Trumpetist Dunham

Glen Gray's Casa Loma orchestra plays host to San Francisco State, University of San Francisco and San Francisco Junior college, when the traditional "Tri-nite" is held in the spacious and palatious Palm court of the Palace hotel, Friday night, November 10.

A smash hit at the Golden Gate International exposition, where he played for overflow crowds on a two-day stand, Gray features such vocalists as Pee Wee Hunt and Kenny Sargent and trumpetist, Sonny Dunham.

The affair, informal in tempo and spirit, should provide the atmosphere for a rekindling of high school friendships, minus the natural rivalry occasioned by the different institutions, athletically and socially.

Reservations, although not necessary, may be secured from Bob Sweeney, Ed Smith and Betty DeVoe, campus representatives, or committee member Alex Edelstein.

Last Post Game Dance Held Friday Night

The final post-game dance of the semester was held Friday night in the Women's gym following the State-S.F.J.C. football classic.

Trumpeter Dick Lotter and his band furnished the music for the dance, which was sponsored by Sigma Alpha Eta, men's honorary fraternity. Proceeds of the dance will go to the fraternity's scholarship fund.

State Delegation Attends Meeting

A reception-tea was held for new members on the last meeting. Dr. Treutlein was to address the coming meeting with a summary of the background of Poland for his topic. Meetings are held on each Tuesday at 11 o'clock in the activities room. Interested students are invited to attend.

Dr. Hacker Discusses China

Last Monday's discussion of the political situation in the Balkan states, under the guidance of Dr. Hacker, led to some rather warm debate over certain controversial issues.

Today at noon the topic for consideration will be "China—Old and New." Dr. Hacker will exhibit some of his collection of lantern slides prepared from his own photographs.

When the fox couldn't get the grapes he decided they were sour . . .

Twenty years ago when certain nations couldn't keep peace, they decided it was sour . . .

And they dragged us in . . .

And we went in and threw away more than 115,000 American lives, with a little money on the side . . .

Who have we here that would tell us peace is sour and would try to burn our fingers for us?

Perhaps it would be better for us to play blind, deaf and dumb . . .

Perhaps a lot easier and a lot less expensive, and even a little more sensible . . .

Don't let that propoganda throw you . . .

"Regret that I could not be present this afternoon at ground breaking ceremonies for your new college. I extend my greetings and congratulations." This postal telegraph was received from Governor Culbert L. Olson.

Now that the ground breaking ceremonies are over, all we have left to do is look ahead to the completion of work on the new campus. It's as easy as that . . . so it might seem. But therein lies a long story of trouble and downhill travelling.

Who said we'd done the job. We've hardly started yet. Getting the new campus means only a place to work . . . not the completition of work itself.

On the campus we're still having trouble with congestion in hallways and doorways between classes, papers thrown on the lawn, gum spit in drinking fountains, signs torn from the walls, cheating in examinations, smoking in the buildings, stealing books, and sneering at school spirit.

All these things appear most unfortunately similar to the troubles that pop up in high schools. Maybe somebody should hear about them . . . and think about them.

AFTER BEATS

By SHERMAN GRANT

State's fine symphony orchestra presents us with many potential limelight personalities who have been resting in the shade of their quiet glory. The time has long since passed when these people should be given the glaring light of publicity. In our small way we'd like to bring a few of these recluses out in the sunlight. Predominant in our mind's eye at the moment is a strikingly handsome young man whom we delight in referring to as the "Lousy Latin Lover." Signor Alfredo de Pasquale has flashing eyes which bely his quiet, subtle humor. We knew Al many years ago, when he had just started to learn the French horn; now he is an artist at the instrument. We're not using the term indiscriminately—when you hear him paly the solo in the theme of the second movement of the Tchaikowsky fifth (the melody which some opportunist-song writer borrowed and gave the gushy title of "Moon Love"), you will realize the accuracy of our praise.

Another longhair who deserves more than mere mention in this column is Tom "O'Flaherty" Tsuji. Tom surprised us all with his marimba specialties in the recent (and passe) Showboat, but his skill on the woodpile does not minimize his artistry as a tympanist. This Oriental screwball, whose ancestry dates back to the Mikados of a musical dynasty, plays the kettle drums with delicacy and contrasting vitality equal to the finest we've heard.

A little-heralded personality is Phil Laspina, section-leader of the orchestra's viola division. Phil is a quiet-spoken, easy-going person, but with all the characteristics of a fine musician. He plays one of the orchestra's most difficult instruments with unusual finesse, in sharp contrast to his robust trombone attacks in college band.

Not to be eliminated in the list of plaudits is Erwin "Mickey" Maguire, concert master of the group. Mick has climbed to his honorable post by diligence, patience, and fine musicianship. Long active in the Music Federation, The Maguire is a valuable member of the department.

* *

Asides and Interludes: Dick Bailey receiving the ice-water treatment for (ahem!) tired nerves on the Cal Poly trip . . . Archambeault and Garzoli doing a blackface act on the observation platform . . . Your correspondent hiccoughing all the way from Gonzales to King City . . . That heartsick young violinist receiving a head of Watsonville lettuce as reward for his playing . . . And the crowning achievement: Some wag beating a drum through the length of the train to test the relative conditions of the excursionists' heads.

Cal Poly Bunch Captures Staters

We came . . . we saw . . . and our hearts were captured by the reception given us by the Associated Students of Cal Poly on the football exqursion last week-end.

Turning out en masse to greet the Golden Tide Special on the Cal Poly siding, the Cal Poly student body literally turned over the entire campus for the benefit of the visitors from State.

Greeted by the massed bands of State and Cal Poly, horse-drawn hay-wagons, mounted cowboys, and an aerial performance by the Cal Poly aeronautics department in student-made planes, the State students were given the run of the campus, the girls being taken around the campus in the hay-wagons, while the men were entertained by swimming in the Cal Poly pool.

The afternoon was marked by dancing in the gym and an evening barbecue in the Cal Poly grove. Members of the Gater staff were introduced to the El Mustang adviser, who brought them on an extensive tour of the Press room.

"This excursion was one hundred per cent better than we have ever had before," said Mr. Nee, sponsor of the trip, "and the students of Cal Poly deserve our heart-felt thanks for the reception we were given. A person would be proud to have any one of those Cal Poly boys as his son. Congratulations to Jimmy FitzGerald for running the trip are also in order. He did a wonderful job. All in all, we were very pleased both with the reception we were given and with the attitude of the State rooters on the trip."

It was a decrepit, nondescript, yet well satisfied mob of State students that disembarked from the Excursion Special at 7:30 a.m. Sunday morning.

Miss Casebolt College Climber

People passing by College Hall Saturday evening about 6 p.m. were surprised to see a small group of girls hovered about an open window. Could it be a robbery at the school? Oh no, it was nothing like that—only Miss Casebolt climbing out of a window from the ladies' dressing room. It seems that Miss Casebolt had been locked in College Hall and had no way of getting out. With the help of the girls and Miss Van Gelder, she was able to successfully climb from the window-sill upon a chair and then safely to the ground. Then, one of the students, Betty Berlin, remembered that she had to get some books and she proceeded to climb into the same window and soon returned, out the same way as she went in. Is this a new fad of entering a building? If it is we hope it does not last long.

For Girls Only . . . by Betty

Scholarships for Girls

Alpha Omega is making State history . . . it is offering a scholarship for some deserving girl at State. Never before has there been such an opportunity presented at State for girls only. Standards and requirements have not yet been established, but Jean Van Arsdale, sorority president, will publish them as soon as they are known.

Service by Girls

The above mentioned organization is one of many who are helping to build a bigger and better S. F. State. It is these small individual groups formed in some definite school interest that incite spirit and unity. State has always been opposed to mere secretive social sororities that grow out of clicques. These are against the democratic bases upon which our college is constructed, and they are against the best interests of a united student body. The organizations of the past and newly formed ones will be essential in our growth which seems inevitable as we migrate out to Merced. They are an incentive for girls to try to attain the necessary standards to be admitted and with the background they now have are a definite goal to work for.

And What Will Mi'lady Wear

An ever-present problem we have to face all too often. This last weekend was the time for a lot of planning. First we had to have a suitably warm outfit for the car caravan and the game. Friday night with added accessories for the dance in the gym afterward. I don't know how other people feel but it is my fervent hope that our Friday night dances will remain on a par with those who have had so far. Last year, we were noted for our unique assembly of outside riffraff these affairs attracted. Now they are truly a campus activity and let's keep them that way. The next night we had the rather big job of getting ready for the Newman formal. This always entails such problems as wearing one's hair in a different mode, figuring out the dress that is most suited for the dance, and all in all looking one's very, very prettiest.

Girl of the Week

The formal would not have been half the success it was without the help of Newman's vice-president, little Gertrude Egan. She has been here one year and so far is one of the most popular sophomores. There is a certain charm in her Irish face that is difficult to replace.

Bib 'n Tucker Fashion Show Needs Sponsor

Plans for a forthcoming fashion show were scarce at the Bib'n Tucker meeting, Thursday, November 2, in the Activities room. No store has been found to sponsor the show and the girls are undecided whether to have it this semester or next spring.

Winnie Regier introduced a cosmetologist who gave a demonstration and lecture on the importance of a nice skin and good cosmetics. Jeanie Van Arsdale was her model.

State, Lowell Debaters Vie Thursday

"We have an invincible case. We'll trim 'em. With these challenging remarks, debate coach Lorbeer of Lowell high, sounds the battle cry of the forthcoming struggle at State next Thursday.

Contrary to custom, the affirmative will travel. State, represented by Sam Dana and David Lull will uphold the negative: "Resolved: That the U. S. Should Maintain Ownership and Operation of the Railroads."

Symposium Held At Stanford

Stanford University was host to many girls from dancing groups of various colleges on Saturday, October 28. Forty girls under the direction of Miss Van Gelder, were present from San Francisco State. The girls left at 7:45 a.m. on a chartered bus and arrived at Stanford, whereupon they were given breakfast, then asked to register and then dressed in costume, ready for work. One girl from each college led the group in technique for about fifteen minutes. Jean Van Arsdale represented State. After a delightful lunch the girls were divided into small groups and composed their own dances and later in the afternoon presented them. After the dances were given, there was discussion and punch and cookies were served. Frances Twohig and Virginia Warum led two groups in composition.

Extension Plans Russian Class

The extension division is considering the introduction of a course in the Russian language.

The course will be given in the evenings, probably Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. and will carry three units of college credit. It is planned to serve both as an introductory course for beginners, and as an intensive review for Russian-speaking students.

According to present plans, Mr. Vladimir Tychinin will act as instructor for the course. Formerly of the University of Kazan, Mr. Tychinin has been a college instructor in this country for several years.

All students interested in taking the new course are asked to give their names to Dr. S. Thompson of the Spanish department or leave a note in Box 1567.

Sigma Pi Sigma Versus Muscle-Men

Gater Sports

Intramural Championship On Upper Field

COVERING UPPER FIELD . . . .

By JOHN PICHOTTO

When the dust cleared, and the bruised and tired battlers picked themselves up, the tally sheet read—Sigma Pi Sigma 6, Old Men's A. C. 0. The game was played last Thursday to decide which team would meet the Muscle-Men in the championship game today. It was a torrid battle from start to finish with neither side playing better ball than the other—it was that close.

Sigma's lone tally came late in the first half. Ed Barry, who played a great defensive game all afternoon, smashed in to block Russell's pass. Bob Anderson snagged it before it touched the ground on the OMAC one-yard line. A short bullet pass from Jack McGann to Don McRitchie accounted for the six points and victory for Sigma Pi Sigma.

OMAC PASSES FAIL

In the second half, the OMAC threatened to score many times as Bob Russell flung passes into the arms of Tom Collingwood, Dave Kerwin, and Ernie Loustalot for large gains. Long rambles by Herb Platt and Russell also accounted for yardage, behind effective blocking by Wally Young, Jack Friedman, Jack Wolf, Cliff Nelson, Dan Rubin, and Joe Techeira.

STRONG FRAT LINE

The Sigma line of Ed Barry, Tony Bacich, Bob Buckley, Bob Cumming, George Weekes, Bill White, Joe Edelstein, and Alex Edelstein held the desperate thrusts of the OMAC's. Jack Fisher and John Finn intercepted a nummer of the OMAC passes to halt the scoring threats.

The Sigman were handicapped early in the game by the loss of two stellar linemen, George Weekes and Bill White. Besides these two, the fraternity boys came out of the game with Bob Anderson and Ed Barry on the injured list.

All these men should be in condition to start against the Muscle-Men today, with the possible exception of Weekes who received a bruised knee.

STEIN'S BOYS FAVORED

Most odds favor the fraternity boys to win the title today in their clash with Captain Al Barros' Muscle-Men although Manager Homer Irwin insists his men are confident of victory.

Sigma Coach Bill Stein predicts victory with the statement that "we have played our toughest game against the Old Men's A. C. and I don't believe the Muscle-Men are as strong as they are, but of course, anything can happen in a ball game."

The game will be played on the Upper field starting at 12:15. Officiating will be done by Phi Epsilon Mu members Dave Schiller, Chad Reade and Charles Iago. If the public speaker is available, John Pichotto, intramural manager, will give a play-by-play description of the game.

Mosby Addresses Phi Epsilon Mu

Dave Mosby, noted authority on the dressing of injuries, will address Phi Epsilon Mu members on this subject today or tomorrow. All men students are urged to attend this informative lecture.

Alligator Purse

This prediction is republished from S.F.J.C. Guardsman:

"Its mouth a gaping cavern,
An evil glint in its eye,
The snorting alligator,
Seems about to make Ram pie.
But above those sawed off hind legs,
Behind those triple chins,
Lies massive power a-plenty,
To send the Gator to its kins.
When all the fuss is over,
The Gater won't need a hearse,
For from its grizzled, mangy hide,
We'll make a souvenir purse."

Junior Varsity Gridders Held Scoreless In Tie

Placement Kick Fails In Second Quarter Try By Daryll Jasperson

Threatening three times but failing to tally, Coach Tom Bragg's junior varsity gridders had to be content with a scoreless tie with the S.F.J.C. Lambs.

A desperate effort for victory fell short midway in the second quarter when a placement kick for the J.V.'s from the 25-yard line by Daryll Jasperson sailed far enough but wide.

The baby Gaters got off to an early start when shortly after the opening period began they started a march. Taking the ball on their own ten, the Bragg-coached warriors moved straight up the field to the J.C. 40 before being repulsed. Play started on the ten yard line and in three plays the ball was advanced 13 yards to the 23.

PASSES CLICK

At this point a pass from Craig Gaffney to Archie Steinback, who was the game captain, was good for 13 yards and Steinback lateraled out to Crane who rambled some 6 more before being dumped. After a running play failed to gain, Gaffney faded and threw a perfect strike into Crane's mitts good for 17 yards, but on the play a holding penalty set the J.V.'s back to their own 40.

After an exchange of kicks the State lads got a break when the J.C. safety man fumbled a boot and State recovered on the Lamb's 15. Two running plays and an incomplete pass netted five yards and it was at this point that Jasperson, with Elmer Harvey holding, attempted his field goal. It sailed wide.

SCORE THREAT STOPPED

The rest of the period afforded no more scoring opportunities. However, early in the third period it seemed as if a J.C. back was going to go all the way, when he took the pigskin on his own ten and rambled 20 yards before Al Larim, safety man, made a beautiful shoestring tackle to save a score.

Another scoring threat came in the last period. With the ball on their own 49, the junior varsity added another attempt to tote the pigskin over when Grant Elms threw a long lateral to Craig Gaffney who in turn tossed a long pass to Arch Steinback. The play netted 38 yards but the attack bogged down when a fourth-down pass was intercepted.

TOUCHDOWN CALLED BACK

It was in this very same period that the Gater fans got their biggest thrill when Craig Gaffney intercepted a pass and ran 58 yards to a tally but a holding penalty nullified the tally. In this very same period, a "deadman" play from Gaffney to Crane was good for 20 yards. After advancing to the J.C. 10, the attack again bogged down.

Craig Gaffney and Archie Steinback did yoeman work as did Phil Rodman, Izzy Pivnick nad Norman Crane.

BADMINTON MATCHES GO INTO CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY

Proceeding with the rapidity of an epyleptic snail, the Badminton tourney being held daily in the Women's gym went into the final rounds. Following weeks of defaults, delays, failure to appear and a score of other deterrents, eliminations finally narrowed the field to the championship round.

In the men's singles, Ru Stone and Nyman cross bats for the crown, while the women's singles finds seeded Jo Biggi favored to down Norma Taloff.

Forgetting their singles rivalry in the men's doubles, Stone and Nyman will pair to battle Stein and McGann in the finals of that event.

The mixed doubles offered four teams to dispute the right to carry away the championship honors. Sandeen-McGann versus EdelsteinKnabenshuh, and Biggi-Stone versus Stein-Scordellis still occupy the semi-final round.

Pugilists Called For Workouts By Coach Kupfer

Boxing will make its debut into the realm of State intercollegiate sports when the initial workout takes place tomorrow at three o'clock in the men's physical training quarters.

Coach Don Kupfer invites all men out regardless of ability or past experience. Those that are most aggressive and clever with their dukes will form the nucleus for the boxing squad.

San Jose State, which won the Pacific Coast intercollegiate boxing championship last year and sent four men on a tour of Hawaii, has offered to match their jayvee squad with any team that we might develop in a pre-season tilt.

An Indian" Hoopa" school has promised to pitch their redskins against our squad. They are under the tutelage of Bogdanoff, former State athlete.

A wrestling team will be organized in conjunction with the boxing squad if sufficient men show interest in forming one. Kupfer will coach both groups afternoons from 3 to 4 o'clock.

Women's Hockey Team Meets Rams

Junior College Rams Go Beserk In 19-0 Second Half Victory As Alligator Defense Crumbles

Rambling Rams Make Good Their Boast To Make a Souvenir Purse of Alligators' Hide

First it was the College of Pacific beating California, then it was Portland University winning over St. Mary's, and now, last Friday night, S.F.J.C. tops things off by winning over State. When the final gun sounded at Seals stadium, there stood 19 points for the Rams, and nary a one for the Gators. The first half of the contest was an almost even affair with the Staters taking a slight edge. In the first quarter neither team went anywhere, most of the time being spent in punting out of the holes each team was placing the other in.

TIDE TAKES BALL

Three exchanges of kicks found the State boys gaining five yards on each. The third one, just as the period ended ,gave the ball to the Gators, on the enemy 48-yard line.

With Chad Reade and Jim Lowrie packing, the ball was advanced fifteen yards in four plays, but the attack faded out and State was forced to kick. The first quarter was then reenacted with the two teams doing nothing more exciting than exchange a couple more punts.

With four minutes left in the half, the Tide came to life again for a few moments. A nicely executed pass from Reade to Dave Schiller was good for twenty-two yards and put the ball on the Ram 26. Reade again got back for a pass, saw he couldn't throw it and ran it to the 21-yard stripe instead.

HALF ENDS DRIVE

A center buck netted one yard for Lowrie, and Reade made it a first down by an off-tackle play which brought him to the 10. Three quick plays were run before the gun sounded to end the half, and the Gators were still nine yards from the goal. So ended the only serious State offensive drive of the evening.

Only a few minutes of the second half had passed by when the rambling Rams started to go places. Starting on their own fifty, they used two passes, good for 15 and 12 yards, and runs of 6, 3 and 4 yards to bring them deep into State territory.

NAUMAN PLUNGES OVER

Next came a bullet pass down the center, from Al Nauman to Jim Molich, and jaysee was resting on the two-yard line. Two plunges by Nauman and the score was six to nothing. The conversion was missed.

State came back fighting mad. After a couple of line plays went nowhere, Reade faded back and let the pigskin fly. His toss went forty yards into the arms of Hal Meller, who took it away from a couple of defenders and went on for twenty-two yards further till he was stopped on the Ram 35-yard mark.

TIDE GOES NOWHERE

State then preceeded to go nowhere once more, finally losing the ball on downs only, getting only a yard closer to the goal. Some more kicking then took place till suddenly S.F.J.C. grabbed six more digits.

RAMS GO PLACES

Jaysee was given the ball on State's 45 as a result of a Gator punt to this spot. One play, a pass from Nauman to Molich, and the score was 12 to 0. The conversion was not good.

A few minutes later, the junior

Newman Plans Barbecue and Dinner Dance

Excursion to Cal Newman Club Discussed

The Newman ball is dead! Long live the Thanksgiving barbecue and barn dance!

And with their eyes turned to a new monarchial social event to their fall social calendar, members and friends of the Newman club are today over the effects of Saturday's semi-formal at the Saint Francis hotel with its fast-fading memories and expectantly eyeing November twenty-seconds' Sigmund Stern party.

CLOSED TO MEMBERS

Scheduled to begin at six o'clock with an outdoor barbecue and weenie roast, the evening's festivities will be climaxed with an old fashioned barn dance and hayloft party in the Sigmund Stern clubrooms. Refreshments will be served, old clothes will be in order and the celebration will run on until midnight.

Dr. Theodore Treutlein will be faculty sponsor of this event but all other members of the State faculty will be welcome to attend. Admission is free and the barbecue and barn dance will be closed to members of the Newman club.

PLAN DINNER DANCE

In the meantime the San Francisco State Newman club is planning an excursion to the University of California club on Sunday evening, November 12. Members of the local organizations will be feted (at 75 cents per person) at a Dinner Dance Extravaganza in True Mediterranean style. The theme is billed as Along the Riviera and Joe Luke and his Lake Merritt hotel orchestra will provide the dance music. The dinner and dance will be held in Newman hall and will begin at 6:30 and last until midnight.

All Staters planning to attend the affair should sign the Newman club bulletin board in College hall. The University of California aided considerably in making the Newman ball a great social success and President Brummal urges State Newmanites to help in making November 12 a gala day in Berkeley.

The next regular meeting of the Newman club has been changed from Wednesday night, November 15, to Tuesday night, November 14, to avoid conflicting with the Chicken's ball. Local members are urged to hurry up and purchase their Chicken's ball tickets as there are only a few left.

Dean Ward Has Many Requests

Every day Dean Mary A. Ward receives requests for men and women who are interested in part time work. This work is usually for positions in the home and as a rule don't infringe on a student's school program.

In the majority of cases students have been placed immediately in one of these position. Although many have filed their applications for all types of work Dean Ward is constantly receiving requests for students to do the unusual.

Kindergarten - primary majors are particularly interested in jobs where they work with children. For instance, a girl had to be found who could take entire charge of 18 children at a Halloween party. This girl was to do the planning of everything from food to games. A K.P. major was given the job.

Dean Ward has placed students in jobs such as cooking dinners, helping to move, public library, cleaning two or three apartments daily. Organizations and clubs as well as private homes often like to have students in to clean up after parties.

Certain rates have been agreed on by students. Cooking a dinner is $1 and hour, and for serving is 40 cents an hour. $1.25 an afternoon or evening, after three hours 40 cents per hour is charged for taking care of children. Students who take children to school don't earn much, but they can get their carfare.

These are just a few of the jobs that have been secured for State students with the aid of Dean Ward. Although most positions are filled right now she is always hearing of new ones. Those students who are in need of a position and think that they might be adept at one of the aforementioned may see Dean Ward, room 121.

Constitution Test

The test on the constitution will be given on Tuesday, November 21, from 10 to 12 a.m. in room 118. This examination is to be taken by teachers in service, new teachers in California, and transfer graduate students who have not yet done so. Special permission from the registrar's office will be required. The test will be conducted by Dr. Floyd A. Cave.

Local Poets to Visit Workshop

An invitation to Robert Lambson, Marie De La Welsh, Sarah Bard Field or other established local poets is to be extended, within a month, by the Poetry workshop group.

More intense criticism of the original poetry of the group is the purpose.

"It is my intention,' Mrs. Ruth Witt-Diamant stated today, "to cull from all the works submitted about a dozen poems for such professional criticism.

"I do feel that we do not have a right to issue these invitations until we have enough discrimination to set a respectable standard for ourselves. However, we should have enough acceptable verse soon, to feel justified."

Lyric poetry is the characteristic type submitted, which is a good basis for poetry writing.

The next meeting of the poetry group for reading poetry is scheduled for November 10.

Forty Hands Play Twenty Pianos

Forty hands — simultaneously picking out identical harmonies on twenty pianos—that was the new dimension of Miss Eileen McCall's piano ensemble as revealed today by the music department. Last year the ensemble included nine students.

Tinkly old-fashoned music more than doubled in popularity, too, department figures showed, with increased registrations in classes in technique of the clavichord and spinet.

Phi Lambda Chi Hazes Neophytes

Hazing took place at the Phi Lambda Chi house at 101 Buena Vista avenue this last Wednesday night.

The new pledges were sent on a city-wide scavenger hunt while their full-fledged sisters held a meeting.

After the return of the 31 pledges the initiation was held and refreshments served by the new members.

NOTICE!

Tests for those seeking teaching credentials are as follows:

Subject B—Dec. 2.
Math—Dec. 9.
Penmanship—Dec. 9.

Students who are planning to teach should take these examinations before they enter upper-division work.

These tests will not be given again until April.

LID-LIFTERS

Huey Long is credited with the statement: "Don't worry about what they say about you in the papers—as long as they spell your name right!" This epigram will undoubtedly live much longer than any other memory of Hooey as long as there are people who practice what he preached.

Hollywood publicity agents have made several dollars by practicing this tenet; and S. F. State has one among its students who would do likewise. This erstwhile and embryonic politician delivered a short speech at Friday's rally; and flaunted a pair of ruby lips that were of a brighter hue than nature intended even Mr. Wade Patrick Hampton Brummal to wear.

It wasn't so long ago that prudes viewed with alarm the growing preponderance of painted lips and cheeks; today we have become dulled to the desecration of natural charms to a certain extent—but we can never countenance the blot on the escutcheon of masculinity personified by W.P.H.B. So, we of the Order for the Maintenance of Masculine Superiority do hereby brand "Mister" W.P.H.B. with the Brand of the Purple Turtle.

Indignantly yours,
Quintilius X. Quabrle.

Dear Lid-lifter:

In class we are informal,
We care not who we harm.
We call them all abnormal—
The people on the farm.

The city slickers too
Are of a class that's feared
And socially taboo.
Can they help being reared?

I wish I were delinquent.
It must be oh! so swell
To have a mind that's bent
And be headed straight for——"Spooks."

Tide Loses To Jaysee Eleven

college team ended all doubt as to who would win the ballgame.

The Rams started a buck into the center, but instead leaped backward and let go a short shovel pass. Ram man Cunningham came charging through, took a lateral from Molich who had caught the pass and ended up 65 yards down the field with another touchdown. A fake kick and a pass instead, added the extra point to make it 19-0.

The rest of the ballgame was a vain attempt for the Tide. They threw passes all over the place but they were knocked down or intercepted. State couldn't even get close enough to even threaten to score.

Thus did the junior college Rams even up last year's 19-0 defeat by winning by the identical score of 19-0.

NOTICE

All Lost and Found articles and Locker materials from last semester will be turned over to a worthy organization if not called for by November 15.
